TO CLASH WITH YANKS AND BLUE RIDGE FIVE

Hard Battle With Last Year's Champions Set For To-morrow Night.

FRESHMEN PLAY BUSINESS.

Gosnell, Springston, Forwards; Brown or Klopsh, Center; and Daily and Goldstein, Guards, Will Start To-Morrow's Game.

District of Columbia independent champions, the Yankee quint, are the guests of the G. W. to-morrow night at the Central Coliseum in a contest which promises to be the thriller of the local season.

The Yanks have gone through the local independent teams like "a house afire," and have beaten many good teams from out of town. Among their victims of this year is the Grove City Five, of Pennsylvania, which conquered the Buff and Blue rivals, Catholic University. The champs will probably use Ingley and Heddons, forwards, Sauber, center, and Ford (captain), and Catlin, guards.

The G. W. basketers are primed for the fray, and with three scalps already tucked in their belts they will be ready to give the Yanks a battle.

Coach Morse will probably start Gosnell and Springston, forwards; Brown or Klopsch, center; and Captain Daily and Goldstein, guards. Jansen, Eisemann, Hyde, and Rutley make up the reserve force.

BLUE RIDGE TO MEET G. W.

Blue Ridge will play G. W.'s quint in the Coliseum gym next Tuesday evening. Little is known of the southeasterns hailing from New Windsor, Md., but they will present a formidable "five" against the Hatchetites, who are in the best of condition and going at top speed.

A good preliminary battle is scheduled between the Buff and Blue Cubs and the Business High team. The first engagement is due to get under way at 7.30 p. m.

ARRESTS NECESSARY TO STAGE BASKETBALL GAMES

Lester Johnson, assistant manager of basketball, gets arrested regularly every Tuesday and Thursday nights by an officer and taken to Captain Brown's office in No. 1 precinct.

Manager Bettelheim then gives the officer $3 collateral and Johnson is released. The reason for this is that the Coliseum is under the control of the Agricultural Department, and they are supposed to take a yearly permit to hold entertainments in it; this they haven't done, so at each meeting of the G. W. basketball team Johnson is arrested and the $3 collateral is the amount of rent charged to use the hall.

FROSH REVEL 'TILL EARLY MORNING AT FIRST MIXER

The Freshmen of Columbian and Engineering Colleges lived up to the record already established when they held their first mixer of the season last Friday evening in Lisner Hall.

Although unusually late for a freshman mixer, class leaders showed their diplomatic ability by waiting till the approach of mid-year examinations had engrossed the attention of the watchful Sophs.

A good crowd of Freshmen were out, while a smaller representation of upper classmen added dignity to the occasion.

For some reason the Sophomores were conspicuous by their absence, and the Frosh permitted to spend the evening unmolested. Even the refreshments promised by the class did materialize later in the evening in quantities sufficient for all.

When the orchestra decided it was time to leave, the Frosh revelers were so happy with their first undisturbed evening that a voluntary assessment was made and the music induced to remain till 1 o'clock. For another hour the king of jazz reigned supreme, but this was only a demonstration of the survival of the fittest. Many weary Frosh, tired of their own company, stole quietly away into the night, while only a few lingered to hear the strains of Home Sweet Home.

Council Decides Election Valid; Milton Ladd Made 1923 Football Manager

New Honor Constitution Will be Presented for Faculty Approval at Once.

Richard K. McPherson and T. F. Stewart were duly elected to the Student Council at the recent election. McPherson, representing Columbian College, and Stewart, representing Engineering College, were seated by the Student Council at the meeting held Tuesday, January 9, 1923, at 8 p. m., in Lisner Hall.

D. Milton Ladd was appointed football manager for 1923.

Earl Manson, chairman of the social committee, announced that the Student Council cleared one hundred and eighty dollars on the recent football hop that was held in the City Club. The athletic committee of the Student Council has been empowered by the Student Council to investigate the needs of the football team and to find out which is more suitable to give to the team gold footballs or sweaters. The football team will have their choice and the awards will be made soon.

The Honor Constitution was drawn up and approved by the Student Council, and it has been voted to present the constitution to the faculty for approval as soon as possible.

The next meeting of the Student Council will be January 30, 1923, in Lisner Hall, at 8 p. m.

PLAYERS CLUB REVIVED; DOROTHEA STEVENS HEAD

William Becker, Dorothy Bartley, Alice Dickey, and Others Elected to Guide Organization.

Like the proverbial cat, the G. W. Players have again appeared upon the scene. Wednesday night in the Chapel marked the reception of 18 active members into the almost extinct body. Dorothea Stevens was elected play managing director, Wm. Becker, general director; Dorothy Barkley, publicity director; Alice Dickey, stage manager; Geraldine Barlowe, secretary; E. A. Browne, business manager; J. Foster Hagan, house manager; Katherine Falkes, assistant stage manager.

The elections took place after much debate on the question, "Is this a new organization, or is it a re-organization of the G. W. Player?" It is now decided that the G. W. Players and this new group are one and the same body.

The form of organization was voted upon after a brief talk by William Becker, a member of the Producing Managers' Association, on the efficiency of a managing director, with other offices subordiate, in comparison with a parliamentary form of organization. It was decided by ballot that Mr. Becker's plan was conducive to greater and more harmonious activity.

The next meeting of the society will be held on Wednesday, the 31st of January, at 8 o'clock, in the Chapel. All people interested in this activity are cordially invited to join. An immediate fee of 50 cents will be charged to cover the cost of the "Cherry Tree" picture.

2D ALUMNI QUARTERLY OUT ABOUT FEBRUARY 1

The second issue of the Alumni Quarterly will be distributed about February 1, Secretary Kayser announced. This edition will closely follow the form of the last issue for new and newsy material, but the editor hopes to increase the size. Anyone having material for publication in the paper should get in touch with Secretary Kayser immediately.

ALUMNI LUNCHEON

The next of a series of get-together luncheons for the Alumni Association will be held at the Ebbitt Hotel at 1 o'clock, January 12.

DELTA ZETA PLANS BENEFIT PARTY.

Delta Zeta sorority will give a benefit bridge party at the College Women's Club, 1836 Eye Street, on Tuesday, January 16. The proceeds will go to the support of a teacher at Caney Creek, which is in the mountains of Kentucky, among the "poor whites." The tickets are 50 cents a person, or $3 a table.

WILL MAIL ALL MARKS

In order to facilitate the mailing of final reports, the office will give out no marks at the end of the semester, the Registrar announces. However, under this system it is expected that the reports can be mailed many days earlier than has been previously the case. Flunk notices will be sent in advance of the regular reports, and will be mailed on the same day the professor's marks are entered. Much greater speed and accuracy is expected to result from this new ruling.

TRACK SCHEDULE MADE; GEORGETOWN FIRST

Team Now Practicing Three Times a Week at Coliseum—Dates for Training P...

The George Washing... University Track team will practice the following nights at the Central Coliseum, Ninth and Pennsylvania Avenue N. W., at 7.15 p. m.:

January, 1923—3, 5, 8, 10, 12, 15, 17, 19, 29, 31, and February, 7, 9.

"All candidates are urged to be on time so that the practice can be conducted as speedily as possible, due to the fact that examinations are drawing near, and while we wish to get all the practice we can we do not want to interfere materially with school work, and the usual hard work of exams," said Manager Tracy to-day.

The first track meet is with Georgetown University. The Annual Indoor Relay Carnival of G. U. at Convention Hall, Fifth and L Streets N. W., on February 21, 1923, at 7.30 p. m. There will be many participants from other schools, thus affording George Washington plenty of competition to train for. The rest of the tentative schedule is as follows:

Feb. 21. Georgetown, Convention Hall.
Feb. 28. Johns Hopkins University.
Apr. 21. University of Maryland.
Georgetown University.
Catholic University.
Gallaudet College.
Apr. 27-28. University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa.
May 5. Gallaudet (pending).
May 11-12. South Atlantic Meet, Richmond, Va.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN HOLD RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT

Columbian Women of George Washington University will hold their annual reception to President and Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins on Friday, January 19th, at 1719 I Street N. W. Invitations are extended to the Board of Trustees, University Council, members of the faculty and their wives to meet ... and Mrs. Hodgkins.

The president's reception has come to be one of the noteworthy events on the calendar for the Columbian Women.

DEAN PORTRAIT NEARING COMPLETION BY MERYMAN

Dean Wilbur's portrait, which is being painted by Richard S. Meryman of the Corcoran Art School, is rapidly nearing completion.

The painting will be a three-quarter length of the Dean in his gown and doctor's hood.

As soon as the portrait is completed photographs will be made. They will cost one and two dollars. Dean Wilbur will autograph any of these photographs. The photographs can be obtained upon the presentation of a ticket, which can be obtained from students of Columbian College.

The number of tickets is limited, so it is urged that all students who desire an autographed photograph of Dean Wilbur secure their tickets at an early date.

BASKETBALL.

George Washington will play at the Coliseum on the following nights:

Jan. 13. Yankees, at Coliseum.
Jan. 16. Blue Ridge College, at Coliseum.
Jan. 20. Georgetown University, at Coliseum.

Police Oust F. W. Riflemen From K. A. Range, But Guns Still Pop At New Quarters

Practice for Interscholastic Match Continues—Last Year's Letters Awarded.

The forces of law and order have put a quietus on the practice of the G. W. rifle team in the basement of the K. A. house by informing Captain Stokes that a police permit would be necessary to maintain a shooting range. But with his characteristic resourceful fund of energy, Walter Stokes has obtained the rifle range in the Marine Barracks for the use of his team. Practice was begun there last Saturday night for the interscholastic match which begins in February.

The opening of the new range was commemorated by the award of emblems, which were won last year. The recipients of letters were: Stokes, Barry, Espey, McNish, Everett, Smith, and Trimble. With the new facilities the team is being lined up to clinch all the victories possible and show to the student body and the athletic council that it is deserving of the action which makes its members candidates for major letters this year.

PHI SIGMA MOVES.

Phi Sigma Sorority entertained at a delightful tea in their new quarters in the Domestic Science Building, on Sunday afternoon, January 7th.

1923 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE COMPLETED AND APPROVED

Big Thanksgiving Game to be With Catholic University Instead of Georgetown.

This the official football schedule for G. W. for 1923:

Sept. 29. Georgetown, at home.
Oct. 6. Western Maryland, Westminster, Md.
Oct. 13. Jauniata, Huntingdon, Pa.
Oct. 20. Drexel Institute, at home.
Oct. 27. St. Johns.
Nov. 3. St. Josephs, at home.
Nov. 10. Roanoke.
Nov. 17. Delaware.
Nov. 24. Open, but offered by Johns Hopkins.
Thanksgiving. Catholic University, at home.

Games that are not listed are to be played away.

At the present time Georgetown, C. U., nor Maryland have completed their respective schedules.

Western Maryland has given a two-year contract, starting in 1924.

TO BID OR NOT TO BID

The finals this year are going to mean more than ever to Sorority and Freshmen girls. For to be able to bid, sororities must have an average of 85 per cent, and to be able to receive a bid a freshman girl must have the same average. Bids will not go out until the 22nd of February in order to give the sororities plenty of time to rush the eligible girls.

CO-EDS FORM NEW SOCIETY

"Hour-Glass," a new organization among the women, has been founded. Its purpose is to promote activities and scholarship.

The present membership consists of Maybelle Bennett, Ann Hof, Betty Kendricks, Elizabeth Rice, Lydia Stephens, Nelda Umbeck, and Bea Stephens, Nelda Umbreck, and Beatrice Woodford.

CIVIL ENGINEERS MEET

There will be a meeting of the George Washington University Society of Civil Engineers, Friday, January 12th, at 8 p. m., in Lisner Hall. All students of civil engineering are invited to attend this meeting, and also to join the society.

GAMMA DELTA RHO HOSTESS AT W. U. C. LUNCHEON JAN. 17.

The permanent list for the Woman's University Club Luncheon is being revised. If you want your name on the new list, sign either in the Girls Study room or in the Club Rooms, with the understanding that in case of absence payments will be required. Gamma Delta Rho will be hostess at the luncheon January 17, 1923.

JUNIORS PLAN PLAY AS NEW FEATURE OF WEEK

Popular Saturday Evening Post Story, "The Charm School," Will Be Given.

PROM TICKETS ARE $5.00

William S. Becker and L. A. Hall to Direct Play—Committee to Decide all Details To-night.

A play for Junior Week was heralded with such enthusiasm by the Interfraternity Council that the Junior Week Committee has decided to give the popular drama entitled, "The Charm School," by Alice Miller.

This play has appeared in story form in the Saturday Evening Post, and also was one of the most popular screen plays in Washington a short time ago.

There is only a short time until Junior Week is in full swing, so capable directors will be needed; these positions are well filled by William S. Becker and Lenard Hall. Becker has had a wide experience in directing plays, and Hall is the Art Critic for the Washington News. In the near future a call will be given for participants in the play.

In connection with the events of Junior Week, Edwin S. Bettelheim, chairman of the Ticket Committee, is working on a plan to issue to those who wish it a season ticket for all the events of this illustrious week. Prom tickets alone are five dollars.

A hall has not been selected for all of the delightful affairs, but the committee is considering several, among which is the Central High School Auditorium for the play.

The same orchestra that played at the football hop will be on hand at the Prom with the addition of four members of the La Paradis syncopators.

A meeting of the entire Junior Week Committee will be held to-night, when all details will be arranged, and a definite program announced next week.

NURSES GIVE DANCE FOR ROOM ENDOWMENT

All students of the University are invited to attend the dance given by the G. W. U. Hospital Alumni, Wednesday, January 17, at Raucher's. The proceeds of the dance will be used to endow a room for George Washington's sick nurses.

The Hospital Alumni in charge of the arrangements are Miss Lucy Lamon, Miss E. Lundine, Miss Sally Louise Vestal, Miss Gertrude Stewart, and Mrs. G. Heatley Quesenberry.

Music for the evening will be furnished by the well-known Boernstein's Orchestra. Tickets will be $2.00, admitting one.

VALENTINE DANCE PLANS NEARING COMPLETION

Owing to the numerous conflicting engagements of the various organizations the Hatchet staff is having difficulty to find a place in which to hold its Valentine Dance. Next week, however, it is hoped that a definite place can be named.

Everybody is urged to come and have a good time. The date is Saturday, February 17, at 9 o'clock. Music furnished by same people as at the dance of November 25, promises to be snappy, and last, but by no means least, the price will be $1.50. Decorations will be appropriate, and probably special features will be an added attraction.

Chaperones are going to be Doctor Swisher, Professor and Mrs. Doyle, and Mrs. Edith Bolton.

TIMES PUBLISHES PAGE OF JOURNALISM CLASS WORK

Stories from the pens of embryo journalists filled up an entire page in the Washington Times last Sunday. The future Danas and Greeleys of G. W. U. had that thrill that comes once to every person, that of seeing his story in print; they even wrote the heads.

Most of the efforts were purely feature stuff, and some of it was good; Bryan Morse said it was. At any rate the clippings from this page will look well in the notebooks of future editors of the New York Times or The Boston Transcript.

WASHINGTON, D. C., ... January 12, 1923

Great Work

Under the splendid leadership of Captain John R. Daily, the George Washington Basketball Team has already scored three victories in its first three contests of this season. Cage-game dopesters expected G. W. to defeat Gallaudet, which they did very decisively, but the odds were about even in the Marine fray, and the white-washing of the devil dogs has put our aggregation well into the running for an unusually successful year.

Every one of the players on the buff and blue quintet is well able to hold down his position. Daily and Goldstein are excellent guards, while Klopsch and Gosnell are infallible basket shooters at the forward positions, and Brown is a first rate center. Coach Bryan Morse has added the advantages of good training to natural ability, and thus paved the way for the success of the 1923 basketeers.

Basketball is growing in size as a major college sport. Though G. W. lacks the facilities for properly training athletes in many branches of college sports, we do have a first rate opportunity to train a basketball team. For this reason basketball should be given every encouragement possible here at this school. Go to the games. Root for the team. Then when they finish a bang-up season you will feel that you will have helped to bring about that success.

Professors' Meetings Aid G. W.

Very little attention is given to the fact that numbers of G. W. professors attend the meetings of the many teachers associations in this country. Outside of the members of the faculty that go to these conclaves to represent the University not many of the other faculty members and very few of the students even know they go. Nevertheless, this attendance is a vital factor in the upbuilding of the school.

There are associations of college professors of every branch of learning in the curriculum. From time to time these teachers meet to discuss methods for improving the methods of teaching and plans for student welfare in the classroom. It is well that our professors should keep up with the advances of their profession. In this way George Washington University can be kept up to the standards that other colleges hold.

But above all this the presence of G. W. instructors at these conventions keeps the name of George Washington alive in the minds of their contemporaries. It pays to advertise, and this method of advertising can not be surpassed.

Are We United?

No, we are not, but we must be if the Compulsory Tax Campaign is to be a success. All of the organizations at G. W. must combine in order to properly carry out this drive, the most vital one to the future development of student activities that this University has ever had. The Student Council Compulsory Tax Campaign Committee must request the various student activities to appoint members to represent them on a general committee of this character.

This committee would be able to discuss the different methods of securing the tax. Its members, coming from the activities of the school, could go over the features of the campaign from the standpoint of its importance and effect in the upbuilding of those organizations. They would also be able to obtain a clearer idea of the part that each of the activities could take in the drive. And what is far more important, the activities would feel that they were helping to bring about that institution that they all know is so necessary.

Now is the time for action. The students of G. W. not only want it, but they are expecting it. It is up to the committee to give them action. Those in charge of the campaign should not delay a moment in the formation of this committee. This work is for to-day, to-morrow never will arrive, it is always one day ahead of us.

Pick Ups

All back from our vacations, but remember, though Christmas comes but once a year, exams are coming twice, my dear.

Rifle shooting has become a popular sport in colleges since the war. Over fifty institutions have affiliated themselves with the National Rifle Association. G. W. U., with our Walter Stokes, champion rifleman of the world, is right up there among the best.

THE SPY

President.

"Abie's Irish Rose" having already broken all past records for Washington, bids fair to establish a new record which will be impossible to surpass. This Jewish-Irish comedy by Anna Nichols, goes into its eighth week on Sunday evening, and its popularity seems to be increasing rather than diminishing. Those not among the thousands who have already seen it will wish to do so, for it furnishes an evening of continuous laughter. Eilleen Wilson and Henry Duffy portray the leading roles and are supported by an unusually capable cast.

Garrick.

Another great actress returns to enthrall us when Margaret Anglin comes to the Garrick on Monday evening in "The Sea Woman," by Willard Robertson. The play portrays the honor of the sea, and Miss Anglin is supported by an excellent cast, including Harry Minturn, Rea Martin, and Claude Cooper. Any drama claiming the superb Anglin as its star is worth the price of admission.

Poli's.

After much waiting and hoping Washington will have opportunity of witnessing the now famous "Liliom," which opens at Poli's on Sunday night. This is the beautiful thing of two seasons back, and was one of the leading successes of that season. It is very quaint, very pretty, and written by the hand of a master, Ferenc Molnar.

National.

Helen Hayes comes a visiting next week when she brings "To the Ladies" to the National. Although not a great success in New York, it is a pleasing play and is well done, and to say the least furnishes an evening of good entertainment.

This Week.

President: The seventh week of "Abie's Irish Rose." Eilleen Wilson and Henry Duffy doing splendidly as the leads, and comedy honors going to Leo Hoyt and Robert Lowe as the fathers. One long laugh. Recommended.

Garrick: George Bernard Shaw's uncanny power of satire and emotional construction in character building shown at its best in "Jitta's Atonement." Madame Bertha Kalich gives a powerful portrayal of a difficult role. A treat to the lovers of superfine drama, powerfully portrayed. Recommended.

National: George White and his "Scandal" mongers in town. Lester Allen, W. C. Fields do their stuff, while Paul Whitman's band keeps them stepping. Good, fast revue. Best of the Scandal's line.

Poli's: Sessue Hayakawa wastes his talents upon a very mediocre play, "The Tiger Lily." The star is excellent, but can not redeem the vehicle.

FIRST FLOOR GAMES WON

FIRST BASKETBALL GAMES DRAW SMALL ATTENDANCE

The attendance of the student body at the basketball games so far is very discouraging, as an inspiration to the team and financially, reports Manager Betteiheim.

To show the ridiculous attendance at the Marine game, Saturday, January 6, the grand total net profit from the game was the whole sum of 15 cents.

Preliminary games by either the girls or the freshman team have been arranged as well as the Varsity game. Special programs are on sale for 10 cents that contain a complete schedule of games to be played, pictures of the team, girls team, and many other things of interest.

FROSH WIN FROM BLISS

G. W.'s Freshmen basketers defeated the Bliss Electrical School five 25 to 17, as a preliminary to the Varsity's win over the Legion team last Tuesday. It was a rough and hard fought contest from beginning to end, and the Frosh deserved the victory.

The Bliss School put a rugged team on the floor that easily outweighed the Freshmen, but the first year men took numerous jolts and played rings around their heavier opponents. Too much dribbling was one handicap to the cubs; had they passed more frequently they would have run up a large score on the Electricians.

Kent played a good floor game and shot three baskets, while Beeton looped in the same number and tossed 6 out of 10 free throws.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM PLAY SWARTHMORE JAN. 13

The girls' basketball team of George Washington University will play the preliminary to the regular game at the Coliseum on Saturday night. Their opponents will be the experienced and brilliant sextet representing Swarthmore. As this year's team has been giving an especially good account of itself lately, a very stiff and evenly matched game is expected.

A TOTAL OF 102 POINTS

Better Condition, Good Shooting, and Splendid Team Work Defeat Visitors—Brown, Gosnell, Daily, Goldstein, Klopsch, and Springston Play Good Game.

G. W. opened its 1923 basketball season with an overwhelming victory over the Gallaudet quint last Friday evening, by the score of 38 to 10. It was the Hatchetites' game all the way and Gallaudet never looked dangerous.

The Buff and Blue team was a little slow in starting, but it soon found itself, and then "two-pointers" began to be chalked up without much hesitation. While Gosnell, Klopsch, and Brown were tossing goals, Captain Daily and Goldstein kept the Kendall Greeners down to one point during the first half, which ended 26 to 1 in G. W.'s favor.

In the second half Coach Morse sent in his reserve players, and they held their own until the first string men returned in the final quarter. When time was called the Hatchetite basketers had run up 38 points against 10 for their opponents.

Brown Cages Five.

Brown, playing center, caged five floor goals and Gosnell looped in three, besides making good eight out of eleven tries from the foul line. The guards, Daily and Goldstein, presented a stonewall defense that was nothing short of spectacular, and they "fed" their team mates in fine style. This combination looks to be better than last year's team, and it should make a good showing in the coming games.

The line-up and summary:

G. W.		Gallaudet.
Gosnell	Forward	Baynes
Klopsch	Forward	Seipp
Brown	Center	LaFontaine
Daily (C)	Guard	Lahn
Goldstein	Guard	Bradley

Goals from floor, Gosnell (2), Klopsch (3), Brown (5), Daily (2), Goldstein, Springston, Baynes, Bradley, and Boatright (2). Free tosses, Gosnell (8 of 11), Baynes (1 of 6), LaFontaine (1 of 2). Substitutions, Hyde for Daily, Springston for Klopsch, Klopsch for Brown, Boatright for Seipp, Clark for Bradley. Referees, J. Y. Hughes. Umpire, John Haas.

FROSH LOSE FIRST GAME.

After scoring victories over Tech and Eastern, the G. W. Freshmen were given a 37 to 20 setback by the fast Western team in a preliminary to the Varsity-Marine game last Saturday.

It was a fast and well played game, and although the Westerners had it their way all through the contest, the Frosh put up a plucky battle and were fighting until the last whistle.

The half ended 17 to 7 in favor of the red team, but the Hatchetites came back hard and both teams battled on even terms for 10 minutes before Western forged ahead.

The fact that the Frosh beat both Tech and Eastern, and then Western scored a victory over the Frosh, makes the "boys from across the creek" look like very good contenders for the high school title.

Being somewhat "peeved" over their showing, the Freshmen are due for a comeback when they meet the Bliss Electrical School five on Tuesday, as a preliminary to the American Legion game with the varsity.

Line-up and summary:

Western High.		G. W. Frosh.
Garber	L. F.	Beeton
Delin	R. F.	Woerner
Frisby	Center	Taylor
Hannigan	L. G.	Joynes
McNulty	R. G.	Kent

Substitutions, Tindell for Dulin, Lamar for Frisby, Baum for Woerner, Keehre for Taylor, Brown for Keehre. Field goals, Barber (3), Dulin (4), Frisby (6), Lamar, Hannigan, McNulty (2), Beeton, Woerner, Taylor (2), Joynes (2), Kent (2). Foul goals, Frisby 3 in 4, Beeton 2 in 4. Referee, Hughes. Time of periods, 10 minutes each.

GIRLS WIN SECOND GAME

The first preliminary girls' basketball game played last Friday night against Gallaudet, ended in a victory for George Washington by a score of 19 to 17. The game was played at the Coliseum. It was a decided victory for the girls and a good inspiration for the Varsity to win their contest, which they did. Margaret Bowie was the star of the game.

The following took part in the game: Regulars, Bowie and Chickering, forwards; Terrill at center; Woodford, guard. These girls shared the following positions: Brewer and Carruthers, side centers; Hastings and Wright, guards.

HATCHETITES BEAT MARINES.

Another victory for G. W.'s formidable basketball quint was recorded last Saturday evening when it ran roughshod over the United States Marine team from Quantico, Va., to the tune of 36 to 23. It made two victories in two nights, and the fact that the Hatchetites won their game by being in better condition, speaks well for the aggregation.

The Marines took the lead at the start, but it wasn't long before G. W. got going and overcame the lead, never to be headed again. Accurate goal shooting coupled with fast floor play, literally spelled defeat for the Service Champions.

Win on Condition.

Four time-outs and ten substitutions were charged against the Marine quint, and that speaks for itself. The game was rough, and few fouls were called, but the Buff and Blue men stood the gaff in fine order and came out on top. The half ended 16 to 6 with G. W. in the van, and when play was resumed, the Hatchetites continued to keep well ahead, and the final count was 36 to 23.

Gosnell was the individual star of the game. This midget forward dashed among the giant Marines and shot eight floor goals. Capt. Daily who played a great defensive game, received a badly cut eye, but first aid was rendered and he continued to play. Conradt and R. S. Gladden played well for the Marines, and they seemed to be the only service men who could hit the basket.

The line-up and summary:

G. W.		Marines.
Gosnell	L. F.	R. S. Gladden
Springston	R. F.	Conradt
Brown	Center	Kyle
Goldstein	L. G.	Daves
Daily	R. G.	Wetga

Substitutions, G. W., Klopsch for Springston, Springston for Klopsch, Klopsch for Brown, Brown for Klopsch, Hyde for Daily; Quantico Marines, Doyle for R. S. Gladden, R. S. Gladden for Doyle, Mullen for Conradt, Conradt for Mullen, Daniels for Daves, Daves for Daniels, Stanford for Conradt, Doyle for R. S. Gladden, Mullen for Kyle, A. A. Gladden for Wetga, Wetga for A. A. Gladden, Kyle for Stanford. Field goals, G. W., Gosnell (8), Springston (3), Klopsch (2), Goldstein; Quantico Marines, R. S. Gladden (3), Doyle, Conradt (4), Stanford, Kyle. Foul goals, G. W., Gosnell missed 5, Klopsch 6 in 10; Quantico Marines, R. S. Gladden 2 in 4, Doyle 1 in 2, Conradt missed 1, Kyle missed 2. Referee, Hughes. Time of halves, 20 minutes each.

KLOPSCH AND SPRINGSTON STAR IN LEGION CONTEST

G. W. won its third straight game from the American Legion quint in the Coliseum gym last Tuesday evening, by the score of 28 to 11. It was a fast and rough game, with the Hatchetites remaining on top during the whole fray.

The Legion basketers seemed to be a little rusty on the game. Time after time they ran with the ball and committed unnecessary personal fouls. Several of the Hatchetites were not in the best of shape, and a number of substitutions were made, but they will be all set for the Yankee five tomorrow night.

Klopsch and Springston played stellar games at the forward positions, while Degnan was the best for the Legionnaires. Untz Brewer, former Maryland State football and track star, broke into the battle for the last quarter.

Line-Up.

G. W.		Am. Legion.
Springston	R. F.	Taylor
Klopsch	L. F.	Degnan
Brown	Center	McDonald
Goldstein	R. G.	Harris

DOYLE APPOINTED EDITOR OF MAGAZINE HISPANIA

At the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish, held at Los Angeles, California, during the holidays, Professor Henry Grattan Doyle, of the department of Romance Languages at George Washington University, was appointed an associate editor of "Hispania," the official publication of the association. Professor Doyle has also been for some years modern language editor of the "Journal of Education," edited by Dr. A. E. Winship.

DEAN OF WOMEN HOST AT TEA

Dean Rose is giving a series of teas in order that she may become better acquainted with the women of the University, and that the women may become better known to each other.

These teas are held in the Women's University Club rooms at 2027 G St. from 4 to 6 p. m., the first and third Wednesday of every month. The next will be on January 17.

All women of the University are invited.

WANTED—A SONG

A song contest is now being conducted by the Y. W. C. A., and open to all the girls in the University. An original song is to be written about the Eaglesmere conference. All manuscripts should be submitted to Miss Elizabeth Kendrick at once. Many Universities of the country are competing again this year; Oberlin College winning last year's prize. The local chapter hopes that a large number of girls will compete, and that this honor may come to George Washington University.

This was the main announcement made at the Y. W. C. A. chapel held last Monday. June Cooper, Mabelle Bennett, and Elizabeth Kendrick, who were delegates to last year's conference at Eaglesmere, spoke of the work accomplished there.

UNDELIVERED LETTERS

Undelivered athletic letters and certificates issued by the 1921 Student Council for football of that year, won by Hamilton Owens, Edward Wheeler, Henry Jawish, John Connolly, and John C. Crouch; and for basketball, won by Willard Bracklow, are in the hands of the chairman, Athletic Committee, Student Council. If these athletes, or anyone possessing the information, will kindly forward the addresses of the above to H. A. Tolson, chairman, Athletic Committee, S. C., 1733 N Street N. W., the letters and certificates in question will be mailed to them promptly.

The Old Story.

He was seated at a little round table in an alcove. From the distance he could hear the twang of some musical instrument as it softly played some weird Oriental air. In front of him on the table were two small glasses, which glistened with some reddish-brown liquid. Beads were around the edge of the liquid. Seated across from him, at the table, was a young woman. Her hair was dark, her cheeks were of the color of the robin's breast. Her lips resembled two crimson gashes, which accentuted the whiteness of the brow and chin. He grasped the glass in front of him and lifted it to his lips. One of his hands lay on the table. The woman across from him gently gathered his hand in hers, as she slowly rose from her chair and leaned across the table. He looked up. He gazed into two limpid, dark, mysterious pools, which were her eyes, her lips were close to his. He became faintly aware of the perfume which she had in her hair. He shuddered. The bell rang. He awakened, rose, and left for his next class.

WITH THE ALUMNI

With Congress in session the following notes should be of interest to all students:

Three senators—Hon. George Moses Higgins, New Hampshire; Hon Key Pittman, of Nevada; and Hon. Howard Sutherland, of West Virginia—all have the degrees of L. L. D. from George Washington University.

An echo of the time when this University was known as Columbian University is seen in the biographis of Hon. Sherman Everett Burroughs, First District, New Hampshire, who received the degrees of L. L. B. in 1896 and in 1897 from Columbian University; Hon. Benjamin L. Fairchild, Twenty-fourth District, New York, is a graduate of the law department of Columbian University, receiving his L. L. B. in 1883 and his L. L. M. in 1885; and Hon. John Wesley Langley, Tenth District, Kentucky, another student at Columbian University, now holds the degrees of L. L. M. and D. C. L. and Master of Diplomacy from George Washington University.

Other members of Congress who have attended the George Washington University Law School are: Hon. Henry Ellsworth Barbour, Seventh District, California; Hon. Addison T. Smith, Second District, Idaho; Hon. Homer Hoch, Fourth District, Kansas; Hon Luther Wright Mott, Thirty-second District, New York; and Hon. John L. Cable, Fourth District, Ohio.

In addition to the above, we find that George E. Strong, son of Hon. James George Strong, of the Fifth District, Kansas, and who is a graduate of George Washington University, is an attorney in the Department of Justice.

Among the attorneys recently admitted to practice before the Supreme Court was Wendell Phillips Raine, assistant professor of business law at the University of Pennsylvania, a member of the District bar for five years, and a graduate of George Washington University.

Postmaster General Work will be the speaker at the "Get-together" luncheon for George Washington University men, to be held at the Ebbitt Hotel, Friday, January 12.

Colonel Rufus H. Lane, law, '95, was appointed adjutant and inspector of the U. S. Marine Corps, with the rank of brigadier general. General Lane performed signal service for Santo Domingo when he reorganized the school system and aided in the revision of their laws.

Mrs. Ella Morgan Austin Enlows, Columbian, '15, is the compiler of a publication "Generic Names of Bacteria," which is an important addition to works on bacteriological nomenclature.

Students journalistically inclined will do well to look at the success made by Theodore W. Noyes, Columbian, '77, now editor of "The Evening Star," of this city.
